

Stoddert at a Glance

Stoddert has more than 290 students in Pre-K through Grade 5. Our students represent 26 countries and speak 24 languages.

Stoddert Invests in STUDENT ENRICHMENT

- The Fillmore Arts Program, which teaches music, art, dance, theater, and physical education
- Chesapeake Classroom, a hands-on science program
- Information Technology curriculum
- Library Media Center

Stoddert Students have the RESOURCES they need

- Reading and Math Resource Teachers
- English Language Learner program for diverse students
- Special education team
- School counselor

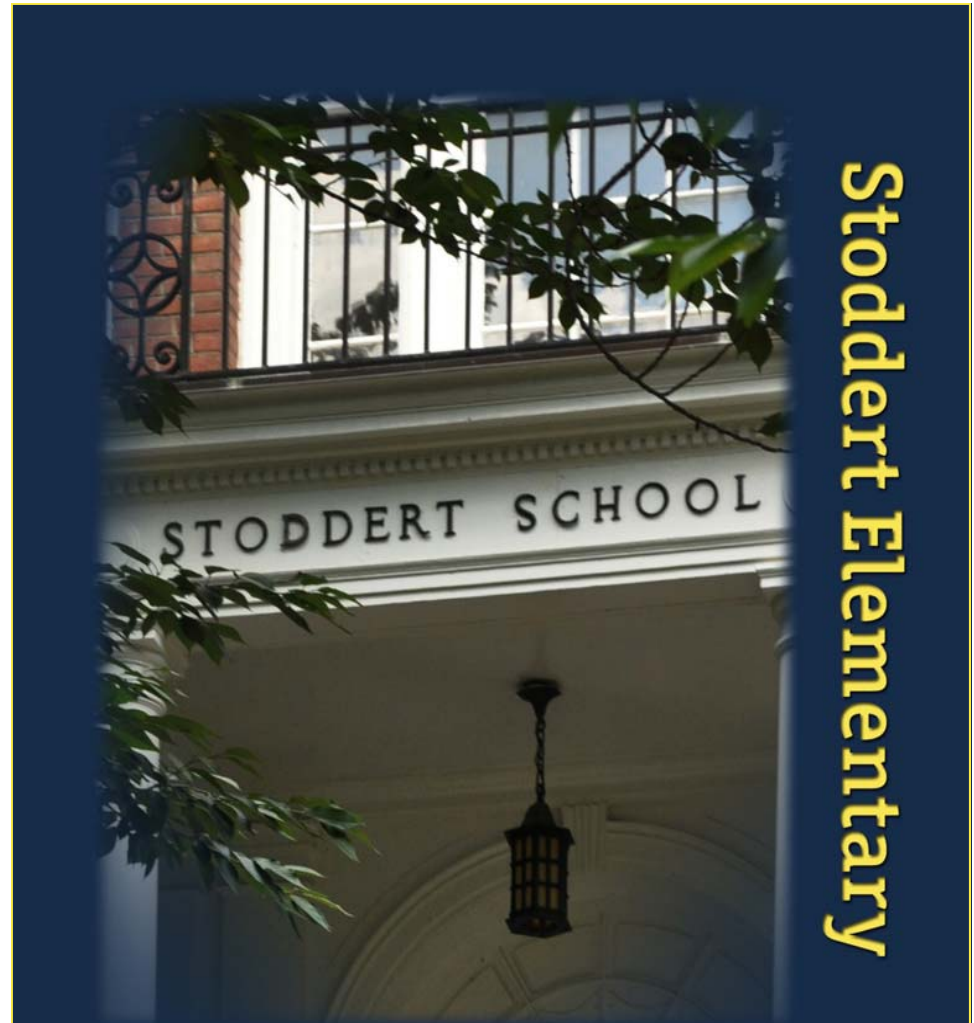

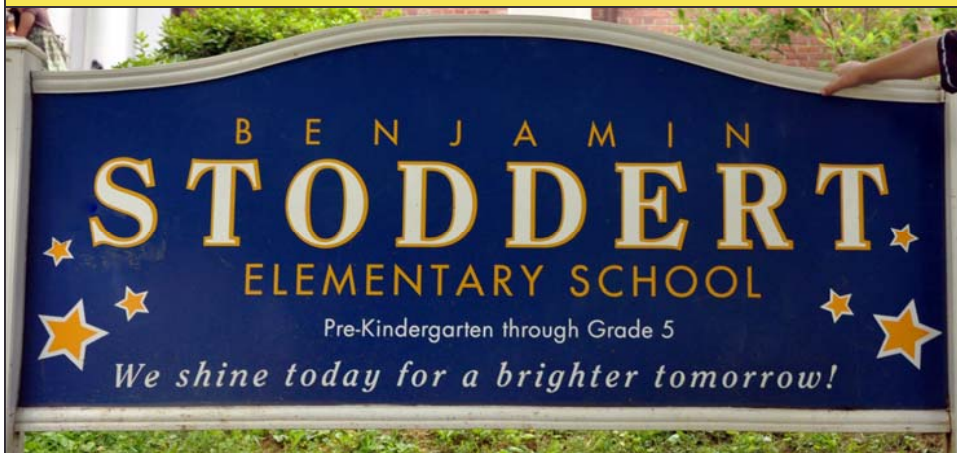

Stoddert Students are ACTIVE

Our students are involved in:

- Safety patrol
- Student council
- Classroom buddies
- Chesapeake Classroom
- Writer's workshop
- Spelling bee
- Geography bee
- PALS Library/computer aides
- Chess club
- Science fair
- Mini United Nations
- Book of the month
- Adopt-an-Embassy

Questions?

call 202.671.6030 email info@stoddert.org visit www.stoddert.org

Stoddert Elementary

2009 - 2010

Benjamin Stoddert Elementary School
4001 Calvert Street, NW | Washington, D.C.

A Nurturing Learning Community

At Stoddert, everyone—principal, staff and parents—shares a strong commitment to provide a safe, caring and nurturing learning environment for children Pre-K to Grade 5 to reach their fullest potential.

Our fully-certified staff of teachers work with parents.

- We have implemented the DCPS Teaching and Learning Framework within a Standards-based curriculum to achieve academic excellence, to develop creativity, problem solving abilities, and higher-level thinking skills.
- We provide the best possible subject matter and teaching methodologies in English, reading, writing, mathematics, the Arts, social studies, science, and technology.
- Our faculty instills in each child the importance of trustworthiness, respect, responsibility, fairness, caring, and good citizenship.
- We help each child acquire the habits of setting high expectations, meeting standards, and applying learning.

We respond to the needs of all students.

- Our reading and math resource teachers enhance and develop skills.
- Our special education program aids in the assessment, identification, intervention and monitoring of those students with special needs.
- We provide English Language Learning program (ELL) for students who need help learning the English Language.

A Diverse Community

Stoddert is a special place, a unique neighborhood school located in the heart of tree-lined Glover Park in Northwest, Washington, D.C. Our multi-cultural school serves families from the community, local embassies and the military from Bolling Air Force Base. In all, our students represent 26 countries and speak 24 languages.

Our unique, diverse community enriches our learning environment.

- Students learn to understand and respect cultural diversity and to be kind and considerate to each other.
- We engage in cross-cultural activities such as our International Night, which features a showcase of cuisine, family traditions and talents.

An Engaged Community

Stoddert families work hard to help make the school great. Family members volunteer in classroom, in the library, at holiday festivals and for PTA-sponsored events. Stoddert's PTA is an organization of dedicated and energetic parents and teachers that sponsors many school activities and events benefiting the students, faculty and staff. Some of these activities include:

- Stoddert Modernization efforts
- Before and aftercare programs
- Annual book sale and back-to-school night
- Website and e-Newsletters to keep families involved and engaged
- Fall Picnic
- Annual Fun Fair
- The Big Chili, a silent auction and social event
- International Night
- Annual end-of-year picnic and fair